Follow

Follow the veins of the leaf in the bark of the seam through the dark of the spring in the sand of the gift in a hand hand on heart

Follow the flight of the moth to the moon of the swirling monsoon of the pale albatross of the road to the cross cross your heart

Follow the arc of a far vapour trail of the cut of a sail of love lost at a stroke of the promise you broke broke your heart

Follow the rhythm of hooves on the plain of the thunder of rain or the pulsing of stars in the beat of your heart heart to heart

Follow the song of the cry of the wild in the eyes of a child in the knowledge you care in the past that you share share your heart

Follow your heart
